

Assignment Lec (11)

- (1) C Program to store information (name, roll and marks) for a student using structure and display it.
- (2) C function to add two complex numbers by passing two structure to a function and display the results.
- (3) C Function to calculate the difference between two time periods using structures.